Alhambra Civic Center Library to Reopen In Phases

Alhambra, CA — The Alhambra Civic Center Library will reopen in a phased approach to ensure the health and safety of our community. Beginning November 3rd, the library will be open to the public for essential services only.

Operating hours will be:
- Monday: Curbside pickup from 10am - 4pm
- Tuesday: Open for essential services from 12:30pm – 4:30pm
- Wednesday: Open for essential services from 12:30pm – 4:30pm
- Thursday: Open for essential services from 12:30pm – 4:30pm
- Friday: Curbside pickup from 10am - 4pm

“We appreciate your patience as we resume offering essential library services again,” said Hilda LohGuan, Library Director. “As we move forward, we will evaluate our services to continue offering the community an enriching experience.”

Patrons are being asked to limit library use to 30 minutes only, for express services such as checking out materials, getting a new library card, requesting information, making photo copies, printing documents, or using computers.

Curbside pickups can be scheduled by emailing refstaff@alhambralibrary.org or calling staff at (626) 570-3212. As a reminder, our 1st Street and 2nd Street book drops are open, all due dates will continue to be automatically extended and no late fines will be charged during this period.

Library guests are required to follow health guidelines, which includes wearing face coverings, and practicing social distancing by maintaining six feet of distance from others.

While library hours are limited, it’s easy to access to our collection of books, movies, music and more 24/7 online at: https://alhambralibrary.org/.
